TOPICS OF THE TIME.

The study of art in the East is becoming altogether too common. A clerk in a grocery store in New York has successfully counterfeited one dollar greenback with pen and different colored inks. A slip of the pen but the looks of one of them, and he is in jail for it.

The French connoisseurs maintain that an English dinner is positively in-decant and immoral. A huge chunk of bloody roast beef, carved by a plump, luscious Englishman, a mass of plum pudding, solid enough to mow down a regiment, form a spectacle, they say, to frighten the gods, and one which suggests the shambles.

This is the most little title which goes before the King of Burmah: His Great, (Glorious and Most Excellent Majesty, who reigns over the Kingdom of Thun-paranta and Tampadia, and all the Umbrella-bearing Chiefs of the Eastern Country, the King of the Rising Sun,

Lord of the Celestial Elephants, Master of Many White Elephants, the Great

Chief of Righteousness, King of Burmah.

MASSACHUSETTS has had some old Governors. Samuel Adams became Governor at seventy-two, and retired at seventy-five. Governor Strong was in his sixtieth year when he was chosen in 1812, and he remained in office four years. Governor Brooks was sixty-four years when he was chosen, and he remained in office seven years.

Governor Eliot was seventy years old when he entered office.

The telegraph service of France, which is under government control, has never been worked at a profit until the present year. Down to 1873 the cost always exceeded the receipts, the deficit varying from half a million to four million francs. In 1874 the income last balanced the expenditure, while for the present year the estimates show a surplus of over two million francs.

A FRENCH correspondent, in a letter from London published in Paris, says he was run over by a hansom while attempting to cross Victoria street. The wheel of the vehicle passed over his arm, and was within an inch of crushing his head. With great difficulty he managed to scramble on to the pavement, while the driver disdainfully called out,

"What are you doing under my cab?" and drove away evidently out of temper.

That the sun's rays are capable of kindling fires which sometimes destroy large amounts of property was fully demonstrated a few days since in a town in Vermont. A house was set on fire by the rays of the sun falling upon several new mill-cans in the yard, and being reflected upon the clapboards of the house. An experiment was afterward made with the cans, by allowing the rays of the sun to be reflected upon pieces of cloth. The result was that the cloth was burned to ashes in a few moments.

Friction impedes the progress of a railway train, and yet it is only through friction that it makes any progress.

This apparent paradox is explained when we remember that, by reason of the frictional bite of the drivers upon the track, they draw the train. The bearing of the wheel upon the rails are mere lines where they come in contact—iron and iron—yet this slight and almost imperceptible hold is sufficient to move hundreds of tons of dead weight with the speed of the wind.

An enterprising genius has been investigating the food question in New York, and finds that the people of that city consume each week six million eggs, three thousand frogs, about forty thousand cattle of all kinds, five thousand pounds of venison, nearly three thousand rabbits and hares, about twenty-four thousand wild birds and fowl, about two hundred thousand barrels of potatoes, and twenty thousand bushels of oysters, the total daily expenditure for solid food being estimated at a million and a half dollars. He also says that about five hundred thousand pounds of fish, including lobsters and crabs, are eaten on Friday.

The report of the Superintendent of Public Schools in Chotaun Nation shows that twelve thousand dollars were expended for school purposes in eleven months to September 22, 1875; that they have a new academy for boys and a new academy for girls, with fifty pupils for each and fifty-four in neighborhood schools. The attendance has been much better than heretofore. The Nation selects five boys and five girls from the academy, the most advanced scholars, and sends them at the expense of the Nation to the States to finish the education of those selected. Two are at Stanford College, three at Bonerille, Missouri, two at Columbia, Missouri, one IMPORTANT TO YOUNG MEN—A CHANCE FOR A WEST POINT CADETSHIP.—The following notice, issued by Judge Durham, will be of interest to the young men of our Congressional District seeking a position at West Point:

There is a vacancy in the Military Academy, at West Point, from asking me to fill the vacancy, suggests a competitive examination as the best way to get a suitable candidate for the vacancy. I have concluded to adopt the plan. All young men desiring to compete for said appointment will meet on Examining Board, in Danville, on Friday, Nov. 26th, 1876, at 10 o'clock, A. M. I will give the appointment to whoever said Examining Board may say is best qualified. The candidates will be examined in Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography and English Grammar, and history of the United States. Nine months between the ages of 16 years and 6 months, and 21 years and 6 months, need apply. M. J. DURHAM.

MAJOR—The grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Kentucky, met in Council at the city of Louisville last Monday. A full delegation in attendance. The Widows and Orphans Home was heartily commended to the fraternity, and it should, indeed, receive the most hearty support and encouragement. There are in the State 107 Chapters with a membership of 4,000. The following are the officers elected by the Grand Chapter: Jas. A. Beattie, of Louisville, G. H. Priest, James W. Bates, of Brookville, D. G. H. Priest, James B. Bine, of Morgantown, Grand King, G. D. Buckner, of Lexington, Grand Scribe, Albert G. Hodges, Louisville, Grand Treasurer, For Grand Secretary—Joseph H. Brannan, of Owensboro.

They got after another preacher down in Tennessee recently, because he acted "un-Christian-like" toward a female member of his flock. It is thought that the church will excommunicate him. If guilty, he is unworthy of his sacred charge.

The King of Sweden has signified his intention to have his noble little country represented at our Centennial show. Nearly all of the civilized countries on the globe and some of the half-civilized will put in an appearance on that occasion.

The opinion of some of our Judges of the Appellate Court of Kentucky, would fill a small volume. It occurs to us that they could be much abbreviated and be far better understood and appreciated, especially by lawyers and litigants.

It is said there are more faro banks and other gambling hells in Louisville than any other city of its population in this country, except, perhaps, New Orleans.

There are fourteen papers, periodicals, &c., published in Louisville, about one-fourth of which are able to "make both ends meet."

A GRANGE has been organized in every county in Kentucky and a deputy appointed for each of them except two.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

Burdetteville.

The result of the gubernatorial contest has had a satisfying effect upon most of our political stomachs. In fact, to hear the discussion is which have arisen on this topic, a credulous man would be almost persuaded that there is sometimes unfairness in elections, if not corruption at the polls.

The episode is prevalent in this region, and as it addresses itself to us more immediately than does politics, the future in reference to the latter has in a measure subsided.

REV. CHAS. HILL, of Somerset, was with us on Saturday and Sunday last, assisting Rev. J. L. Barnes in a sacramental meeting and preaching with great acceptability during his stay. Mr. H. is a pleasant, social gentleman, and a sight of his beaming countenance is refreshing in these days of sadness. We congratulate Pulaski on being able to send out a representative who is evidently so well fed, and, withal, a credit to her cookery.

Our good-humored friend, S. W. Jamieson, leaves to-morrow for Baltimore, his former residence. There are few among us whose absence would be more sorely felt. We commend him to a kind providence. May he be protected from robbers and plagues, and broken rails, and collisions, and "all the ills that flesh is heir to." And, sweetly singing "My Maryland," may he gently gliding in the monumental city, and unfold his patriarchal beard in the home of his boyhood.

In company of Capt. Morrison and a small party of ladies and children we visited the work at Kings Mountain Tunnel. The excursion was very pleasant. The Captain by his proverbial courtesy and cheerful attentiveness won the praise of the party, while the profuse and genial entertainment afforded by the cultivated residents, Major Vanable, Dr. Tabler, their wives, and Mrs. Webster, rendered the visit simply delightful. The work is progressing rapidly, and is well worthy of inspection.

Our efficient Magistrate, E. M. Brown Esq., has presented us with a specimen of what he calls the "workingman's corn." He says he raised it. We will not imperil our rectitude by giving the dimensions, but Ellis says that in order to gather it he will find it necessary to take the hind gate out of his wagon and haul it log fashion. One thing is certain, the said Ellis must "give up the belt."

GARRARD COUNTY NEWS.

Lancaster.

Mr. ANDY CONN's trial for the killing of Arnold, on the 11th inst., was held at Chapel, in Madison county, Saturday, Oct. 16th, resulted in his acquittal from the evidence of the Commonwealth's witnesses, (the defense introducing none) the following facts were adduced—that Conn and Arnold came to El Dorado grocery together. Arnold riding one of Conn's horses. After their arrival at the grocery Mr. Smith, who was there, asked Arnold where his mother-in-law was at, and on Arnold telling him she was at home, Smith said he was going over to see or court her, that he was out of a house-keeper, and wanted one. It seems as if Arnold took this as an insult, and he and Smith had some words—Smith apologizing, and saying he meant no insult. Smith left the grocery and went up to Todd's house, about fifty yards from the grocery, and Arnold followed him there, and as the lady of the house opened the door for the latter to enter, Smith attempted to pass but Arnold stopped him, said something to him and slapped him in the face. Smith came on back to the grocery and asked for a pistol saying that Arnold had followed him to the house and slapped him in the face. No one giving him a pistol, he reached Andy Conn's and jerked his pistol out of the scabbard. Several then stopped Smith and took the pistol from him, and gave it back to Conn, who put it back in his scabbard. Conn then told Smith to go and get John (Arnold) and take him home. Conn then started from the grocery and met Arnold about ten or twenty steps from the grocery coming from the house—as he met him said to him—"what is the matter with you and old man Smith; you ought to let that old man alone and get on your horse and let's go home," whereupon Arnold said—"Damn you, do you take it up," and at the same time commenced drawing and did draw his pistol—Conn grasped at Arnold's pistol and succeeded in catching hold of it and turned the muzzle from the direction of his body—both parties still held the pistol and trying to wrench it from the other hands. Conn then with his other hand drew his own pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in the abdomen. Arnold fell, and his pistol dropped at his feet. Conn helped remove him home.—These are the facts as detailed by the Commonwealth's witnesses and on which facts the Court found their verdict of "not guilty" and discharged the defendant. Mrs. Arnold, mother of the dead, said that Andy stayed with John and waited on him until he died, and then had him nicely buried at his (Conn's) own expense.

CASEY COUNTY NEWS.

Middleburg.

ATTENTION to business, and a general dearth of current news, it is presumed, will be a sufficient excuse for our non-appearance in the columns of the Journal for several weeks. We have waited patiently for something, but no untimely death has occurred for three weeks, no horse has been burglariously entered for some time, nor a preacher bee-lined for over a year, and now we are reluctantly compelled to resume our pen without furnishing "nary" sensational item. We have almost come to the conclusion that Casey has become a bright spot in God's moral vineyard.

RELIGIOUS—Rev. White, belonging to the Christian church, assisted by the Rev. Z. Shackelford, is now conducting a successful meeting at Mt. Olive Meeting House—13 additions so far. Also the Rev. Jno. M. Salter, of the Baptist church, is conducting one at Newell's School house, near by, with seven additions up to this writing.

ELDER R. A. HODGSON sold to Joseph Coffey three acres of land, at $120 per acre. For sometime past an interesting debating society has been going on at Richard's school house, a few miles above here. On last Wednesday night a large audience was present among whom by special invitation, were a goodly number of ladies to witness a discussion on a subject which is now not only agitating the people of the United States—but also Egypt, Turkey, Japan and other oriental countries—that is the Co-extensive Education of the Sexes. The affirmative was ably defended by M. I. Richards, E. Tharron, John Lay, J. Haslin, J. H. McWhorter, Chas. Estes and J. Leonard; and the negative by Jack Wallis, Moses Coffey, J. Fletcher, Jeff Wallis, Gen. Fletcher, Jun. Wilcher and Will Scarborough. After full discussion the weight of argument over balanced in favor of the affirmative.

The members of a certain Lodge not far from here having lately become deluged in attendance and careless about paying dues, the owner of the house became clamorous for back rent. At a recent meeting, at which there was a very meagre attendance, a leading member proposed that they repudiate the Lodge debts and use the few funds in the treasury to buy whisky, and all get on a big spree. This raised the ire of devoted, honest and Julia, who poured her vials of wrath in becoming billingsgate style on the offending member. The scene was said to be rich. ERMELINE.

Gibsonburg.

Died, October 15th, at Mr. John Metcalfe's, Bright Metcalf, age seven years and one day. For six thousand years sorrow has visited the countless hours of earth, and today she comes to us and snatches away our loved one. The voice of agony has been lifted up to God to hold back His death angel; but the decree has gone forth and all must die. These things are hard to bear; but we must remember that the first great wrong brought death into the world—and it must be so. And again are we most affectingly taught the frailty of mortal life. Only a few days ago the dead one made me promise to be with him on the 12th which was his birthday—how different the emotions from what I expected, when I was told that he was very ill. I found him as changed by two days and nights suffering I could hardly believe that he was the same child that had thriven so much happily—and when a few rational moments would return to him he would give us the blessed assurance that—he was only waiting—that the struggle would soon be over. Our hearts will ever go out in gratitude for the last words, believing that they will ever remain as a warning to the builders left; and a help to bring them closer to the Throne of light, and prompt them to throw their influence into the stream that carries blessings wherever it flows. In this bereavement we humbly bow, and thank God that is so, for a soul has been washed out high that has left no more places in our hearts, and every one that knew him remembers him in kindness. It is all over now, no one will ever be forced to feel that

FINE ORCHARD, of select fruit, with a beautiful outlook, and adjacent to a large tract of land, in a fine state of cultivation—about one-half mile out in grass—convenient to mail and churches.

This is one of the best and most desirable tracts of land in Kentucky. Said land contains 734 ACRES UNDER FENCE.

Acres there are about 350 Acres of Knob Land, well timbered. Credit of six, Twelve and Eighteen months, in equal installments, bonds with approved security—bearing 6 per cent. interest from day of sale, payable to the undersigned, and having the term and effect of judgment, required of the purchaser, and a time will be retained upon the land for their payment. Cession given on day of sale for meeting purposes and all other matters on or before 1st day of January, 1877. Address—W. C. MONTGOMERY, Com. Paul Lick, Ky. P. S.—Any one wishing to examine the place will be kindly welcomed upon by Mr. R. M. Carter, on the premises. (Oct. 15, 1876—1877) W. C. M.

If it had not been for him their lives would have remained unclouded. When we look around us and see fathers, brothers and friends (although they have reached the average of life) taking God's holy name in vain and tramping upon all that is pure and good, we are thankful for this trial that draws us nearer Heaven. We wonder how they will endure the winter of age or a season of infirmity, when death invades their earthly tabernacle and the frail garment fails to shelter them—what will they do? What can they say? How different from the one that has just passed away, we cheer him in our hearts as a soul that will welcome us when our lives here are ended. We pray that the stricken parent will still listen to the voice of the Shepherd of Israel, that he may lead them in the path of life, that they will be safe to them, that follow Him—soon or late we must all feel the chill of death's cold flood.

My penance system as a specialty is on an acknowledged success, being original and suited to the taste of every customer. 157-4f
